

Using the SAR format to tell your story

Answering behavioral based interview questions using the SAR format will help you tell a story in a structured and effective way.

Having at least 5-6 positive outcome scenarios and 2-3 negative outcome scenarios that you've prepared and practiced will cover many of the behavioral based questions you may be asked in an interview. Practicing your "story telling" in this format will also help you have a recognized framework to follow when you are describing new scenarios you may not have previously practiced.

S

SITUATION

DESCRIBE THE SITUATION
AND PROVIDE CONTEXT

WHAT WAS THE CHALLENGE
OR ISSUE? WHAT WAS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY?

A

ACTION

DESCRIBE WHAT YOU DID
AND THE STEPS YOU TOOK

HOW DID YOU APPROACH
THE ISSUE? SHARE DETAILS
THAT CONVEY A STORY

R

RESULT

DESCRIBE THE RESULTS OF
YOUR ACTION

WHAT WAS YOUR IMPACT?
WHAT DID YOU IMPROVE?
IF POSSIBLE SHARE DATA
